

RAIL HEADS REFUSE WILSON PLAN OF STRIKE SETTLEMENT

ROAD EXECUTIVES COMPLETE ANSWER TO PRESIDENT—UNANIMOUS IN THEIR STAND

President Wilson Turns to Congress for Solution of Problem; May Make Counter Proposal to Roads—Next Move is Up to Brotherhood—Heads of Brotherhood Organizations Discuss Tentative Plans for a Strike.

THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE SITUATION SUMMARIZED.

Three Points Cited By Railroad Executives To Back Up Their Refusal To Accept the President's Plan of Settlement

First—The fact that many of the big shippers of the country have declared themselves opposed to an abandonment of arbitration and to an eight hour law.

Second—A conviction that to give in to the men under present conditions would undermine discipline on the roads to a serious extent and leave far reaching after effects.

Third—That no matter what assurances are given they feel they cannot expect a rate increase.

Brotherhood Heads Discuss Tentative Plans for Strike—Only Two Steps Can Prevent Walkout.

The head of each brotherhood organization met with his vice presidents last night and tentative plans for a strike were discussed. As the brotherhood sees the situation only two steps can prevent a walkout. These are:

First—For the railroads to withdraw their insistence upon arbitration, or;

Second—For the government to take over the railroads for operation for the duration of the strike.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The threatened railway strike took on such a grave aspect today that President Wilson turned toward congress for a solution of the problem. Suddenly this afternoon, when it became known that the railway executives were unanimous in their refusal to accept his plan of settlement, President Wilson personally went to the capitol and laid before Majority Leader Kern, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, the statement of the railway heads that congress must guarantee some source of added revenue if they are to meet the demands of their employees.

How this should be accomplished, President Wilson did not suggest. Immediately afterward, senators began discussing proposals to have congress record itself in favor of a rate increase. The president may address congress on the subject during the coming week if the situation continues critical.

Refusals to Receive Executives
Tonight the railway executives finished framing their answer to President Wilson's plan and notified the white house they were ready. President Wilson sent word he would prefer to see them Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Brotherhood Leaders after being in meeting most of the day adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning. Many of them left town tonight.

Next Move Up To Brotherhood
The refusal of the railway executives to accept the president's plan will put the next move up to the brotherhood leaders.

The executive's answer probably will be communicated to them officially Monday after President Wilson has heard it. Congressional action is expected and will depend on the outcome of the next steps between the employers and the employees.

The executives held several meetings during the day but no change resulted in their position. It was 6:30 o'clock tonight when the committee of eight which has handled the negotiations announced that they had asked for a conference with President Wilson. After a two hours wait the executives announced that President Wilson had informed them he would prefer not to see them tonight.

The Situation Summarized
The situation as summed up late tonight by those in close touch with it was this:

President Wilson has seen the published reports of the reply the executives will make him Monday and does not wish to accept it. It is possible the president will make a counter proposal, retaining his original proposition for an eight hour day but offering the roads as compensation, congressional assurances of a freight increase.

Among the executives tonight it clearly was evident that such a counter proposal probably would not be accepted.

Might Be Willing to Negotiate
The proposition of the men is not clear. Apparently they will not accept the reply of the executives as it has been published, but they might be willing to negotiate with it as a basis.

It was pointed out tonight that there are many senators who bitterly opposed the five per cent increase recently granted the eastern roads and who might be expected to oppose any proposal that would direct the commission to grant another increase. The executives appear confident that public opinion will be with them in their insistence upon the principle of arbitration and their opposition to an eight hour day. The executives' reply will show that they do not accept the eight hour day, with pay for ten hours as demanded by the men, that they maintain this demand really is one for an increase of wages; and that a question of arbitration and for no settlement in no other way. It will suggest the creation of a commission to arbitrate this wage.

question or delegation of power to the interstate commerce commission to arbitrate. It would make the arbitration result retroactive. Three things are cited by the executives to back up this position. The first is that many of the big shippers of the country have declared themselves opposed to an abandonment of arbitration and to an eight hour day. A second is a conviction that to give in to the men under present conditions would undermine discipline on the roads to a serious extent and would leave far reaching after effects. The third is that no matter what assurances are given they feel they cannot expect a rate increase. This feeling is explained with statements that the roads have not forgotten the way they were attacked when the five per cent case was up and that they do not care to risk another attempt. Apparently the executives are facing the situation with a united front and ready for what may come.

Have Not Abandoned Hope.

Brotherhood leaders said tonight that departure of a large number of their men during the day should not be interpreted as an indication that men had abandoned hope of a settlement. Many more would leave tomorrow, the leaders said, but the heads and vice presidents of all the brotherhoods would remain and would have sufficient authority to deal with any development. It was understood that the chief reason for the exodus of labor men lay in the fact that they were anxious to keep in closer touch with the unions they represent. They will canvass sentiment very carefully among the rank and file of the brotherhood men.

After President Wilson's conference with Senators Newlands and Kern, Senator Newlands discussed the situation with Senators Robinson, Saulsbury, Lewis and other Democratic members and Senator Cummins, a Republican member of the commerce committee. The whole situation is said to have been laid before the Democratic senators for them, if possible to find some means of satisfying the demands of the roads.

In formal conferences of Democratic members probably will be held during the next few days. No one in authority would state whether the railroad crisis would prevent adjournment of congress next week.

Has Power To Change Rates.
Senator Newlands said congress had power to direct the inter-state commerce commission to increase rates or lower them. A suggestion had been made, it was reported that congress might pass the pending bill to increase the membership of the interstate commerce commission from seven to nine and attach to it an amendment expressing the sense of congress that the railroads should have an increase in freight rates if they accept an eight hour work day. Such an expression by congress practically would amount to directing the commission to grant an increase.

"The law now specifically states," said Senator Newlands, "that in fixing railroad rates the interstate commerce commission must take into consideration all operating expenses and increase in wages attendant upon a shortening of the railroad work day would amount to an increase in operating expense."

The head of each brotherhood organization met with his vice-presidents tonight and discussed tentative plans for a strike. The manner in which the federal government has been injected into the situation would make it almost imperative, it is thought, that any strike be directed from here.

As the brotherhood saw the situation tonight only two steps could prevent a walkout. Those are for the railroads to withdraw their insistence upon arbitration or for the government to take over the railroads for operation for the duration of the strike. Little confidence was expressed that the railroad heads would recede but the men professed to see great hopes of government operation of the lines. Just what these hopes were based upon was not apparent. If a strike should come it probably will not become operative for about a week.

The brotherhood men probably would not call the strike until the representatives leaving today and tomorrow had talked the situation over with their local committees.

Brotherhood officials had no comment to make on developments except to say they were "just waiting" for word from the White House.

WAR NEWS AT A GLANCE

German Attacks Repulsed on Somme and Verdun Fronts

Fighting continues on all fronts in Europe but with no notable successes. France and the region of Saloniki have seen the most intense activity, and in both fields the initiative generally has been with the central powers.

Paris and London announce the repulse of German attacks on the Somme and Verdun fronts. London claims an additional British advance near the Mouquet farm. German trenches on a front of 400 yards along the Courcellette-inieval road were occupied. Berlin asserts the repulse of attacks along the Somme front at virtually the same sectors where the German attacks are reported as having taken place.

Sofia records repulse of eighteen consecutive attacks by Serbians northwest of Saloniki.

Northeast of Saloniki the Bulgarians have seized a god part of North-eastern Macedonia.

Bulgarians now are nearing Ofano, fifty miles northeast of Saloniki, thus pressing in on the allied troops along the Struma. No allied advances are reported.

Italian troops are making progress at several points in the mountain region around Trent. Rome also reports the repulse of Austrian counter attacks in the Alps. Vienna asserts that Italian attacks in the Fassa Alps have lessened, but Rome claims continued progress there.

MAY HAVE ADDED SUN CULT.

Court Investigating Morrison Case Will Probe Rumor Next Tuesday.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—When the federal court inquiry into the mystery surrounding the reported disappearance of much of the wealth of Edward W. Morrison, reclusive millionaire, is resumed next Tuesday the court will be asked to investigate a report that among beneficiaries of Morrison's wealth was the Mazdazoon Sun Cult. Attorneys for the Central Trust company, temporary receiver for Morrison's affairs, said tonight they believed Morrison was a member of the cult, whose head, "Prince" Ottoman Zar Adusht Hanish, was sent to prison.

James R. Ward, attorney to whom Morrison transferred downtown property worth more than a million dollars, was deprived of rents on the property today, when the court ordered the rents paid to the Central Trust.

ORGANIZING WOMAN'S PARTY

Chicago Woman Will Start Work in Southern Part of State

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Jessie Hardy Mackaye, who is in charge of the organization work for the woman's party in its Illinois campaign for Hughes and Fairbanks will leave Chicago Monday for a trip thru the southern part of the state. She expects to have the state organized by congressional districts by September 15th. The woman's party will send a large delegation to Springfield to attend Republican day at the state fair.

DEFEAT EFFORT TO LOWER EXEMPTION

Senate Defeats Underwood's Proposal to Lower Income Tax Exemption 31 to 19.

Washington, Aug. 26.—A proposal to lower the present income tax exemption of the revenue bill was voted down 31 to 19 by the senate tonight when Senator Underwood offered it as an amendment. Discussion of the amendment was marked by a bitter exchange between Democratic senators in charge of the bill and Senator Underwood, author of the present tariff law and who as Democratic leader of the house had a prominent part for several years in framing revenue legislation. Chairman Simmons of the finance committee reminded the Alabama senator that it was a long standing senate practice for senators to stand by the decisions of their party caucus and Senator Stone declared Senator Underwood deserved severe censure for his attitude toward the bill.

"Is the senate degenerated to a point where the individual senator must take orders from those who serve on committees because their constituents have kept them in the senate for many years?" retorted Senator Underwood. "I do not recognize the right of any member to dictate to me. If that be treason, make the most of it."

The amendment which would have lowered the exemption by $1,000 received the support of only five Democratic senators. They were Senators Bankhead, Hardwick, Lane, O'Gorman and Underwood.

SPEAKS ON PREPAREDNESS IN DENVER

Hughes' Reference to Roosevelt Brings Roar of Applause—Resting at Estes Park

Denver, Colo., Aug. 26.—For the first time in his campaign Mr. Hughes named Theodore Roosevelt in an address. The nominee was speaking at the Auditorium here tonight of preparedness. He had assailed the administration for calling advocates of preparations "nervous and excited."

"And then," Mr. Hughes said, "a stalwart American went thru the land." He was interrupted by a roar from the crowd. As the applause died down the nominee continued:

"Mr. Roosevelt went thru the land," he continued, "arousing the nation to its need and the administration changed its mind overnight."

The audience which crowded the big auditorium with hundreds standing in the aisle, applauded loudly.

Mr. Hughes in his address outlined the policy for which he stands.

"I stand for the firm and unflinching maintenance of the rights of American citizens thruout the world," he said. "That is a vital question. We should maintain those rights with the strongest nations of the world, no matter which nations they are. American rights, understood, upheld, will give up peace, prosperity and good will."

"I believe that we, as a nation, should be prepared for any emergency. That is not militarism. You couldn't carry a corporal's guards for militarism, you could carry the whole country for adequate preparedness."

"I stand for a business-like administration of government and for the employment in public life of men qualified by training and fitness for public office."

Mr. Hughes reiterated his declaration for a world court. He devoted some time to his declaration for a protective tariff.

Mr. Hughes left at midnight for Estes Park, where he will remain resting until next Thursday.

ST. LOUISIAN IS KILLED

Policeman's Bullet Misses Fugitive And Kills Bystander

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—A patrolman in front of one of St. Louis' police headquarters, shooting at an escaped prisoner today shot and killed one man and wounded another who were passing in a street car. The patrolman, James Gallagher, was pursuing Edwin DePass. DePass was directly in line with the passing street car and was wounded in the knee. Gallagher says he fired only two shots and that one of them must have glanced from DePass' knee into the car.

COAST DEFENDERS WIPE OUT BY "FOE"

"RED" FLEET EASILY LANDS INVADING ARMY AT FARROCKAWAY

Tactics of Admiral Mayo Completely Bewilder Admiral Helm and Force Him to Accept Battle in Hopeless Position—Submarines Quickly Disposed Of.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The greatest war game ever undertaken by the American navy ended today with a victory for Admiral Mayo's "red" fleet which theoretically wiped out the defending "blue" fleet and landed an invading army at Farrockaway Beach, Rock Island. Rear-Admiral Knight, acting as umpire, announced the result in this report to the navy department:

"Maneuver completed. Red and Blue bodies engaged nine thirty to ten thirty this morning ten miles southeast of Ambrose Lightship. Blue decisively defeated, red gaining command of sea. Red effects landing at Farrockaway, and secures base."

The final report closely followed one announcing that Rear-Admiral Helm's "blue" defending fleet virtually had been annihilated off Scotland lightship at the entrance to the New York harbor. The full extent of the "red" losses was not known tonight, altho early reports showed that they included the superdreadnaughts Nevada and Texas and two destroyers.

Submarines Disposed Of.

With Admiral Helm's fleet out of the way, only a thin line of submarines remained to protect the coast. Then these, too, were quickly disposed of by the "red" fleet and Admiral Mayo was declared victor in the game and the ships "red" and "blue" alike, started for Newport.

The story of the game from radio reports indicates that the tactics of Admiral Mayo, completely puzzled Admiral Helm and forced him to accept battle in a position from which there was no hope of escape.

When the game began Admiral Helm's fleet was assembled at Narragansett while Admiral Mayo with his fleet and long transport train were six hundred miles off Cape Hatteras. At 6 a. m. on Aug. 22nd, Admiral Helm received word of his enemy's location. An hour later the "blue" battleships were at sea following their scouts. The cruiser Baltimore sighted the units of the red fleet at 6 p. m., Aug. 23rd, 500 miles off the coast, steaming west. The Baltimore dared not attack such a force and presumably fled for safety.

It was 11 a. m., Aug. 25th, before the "red" force again was sighted 120 miles off New York. Again the "blue" scout was outmatched. At 5:30 p. m., the destroyer Benham sighted the "red" transport train 75 miles off the New Jersey coast. Relying on her speed to escape the convoying warships the Benham followed the transport keeping Admiral Helm informed.

"Blues" in Hopeless Position.

Admiral Helm drove his battle fleet forward to intercept the "enemy" at daylight. He sighted the "red" ships at 5 o'clock this morning. The transport train was teaming in toward the Long Island coast with its destroyer screen thrown out to southward. During the night, however, the "red" battle fleet also had come up and interposed itself to cut off Admiral Helm's attack. The fleet engaged promptly but the "blue" ships position was hopeless. To cut off the transports it had to swing sharply to the west. As the "blue" ships came to the turn they filed in one at a time and caught the concentrated fire of Admiral Mayo's guns. The seventeen submarines mobilized at Block Island the preceding night were following the movements of the "red" transports but keeping well in shore as a last line of defense. Daylight found them within an hour of two of the chosen landing point of the invaders. Admiral Helm ordered them forward in a desperate effort to destroy the troop ships, but they were not equal to the task and the transports and their shielding fighting ships steamed by victorious.

ILLINOIS GUARDSMEN GET NO VOTE

Governor Will Not Call Special Session to Pass Necessary Legislation.

Springfield, Ills., Aug. 26.—Governor Dunne will not call a special session of the Illinois general assembly to make it possible for Illinois Guardsmen on the Mexican border to vote in the primary and fall election. He decided this late today after failing to receive assurance from members of the legislature that there would be a two thirds majority present to enable passage of the proposed legislation.

Governor Dunne issued a statement in which he said it would be futile to call a special session. He said:

"I sent a telegram to each member of the general assembly asking them if in case I should call a special session they would be present and vote for a bill to enable Illinois soldiers on the Mexican border to vote. To pass such a measure a two thirds majority vote of the legislature would be required. The replies received convinced me it would be futile to call a special session to pass such legislation."

Governor Dunne received 129 favorable replies, seven less than the required two-thirds majority. About 30 answered unfavorably or refused to commit themselves. The remaining members of the legislature did not answer.

CUTTER WITH ARCTIC EXPLORERS EXPECTED

U. S. GUARD CUTTER SHOULD ARRIVE IN NOME, ALASKA, TODAY

Carries Members of Borden-Lane Expedition Who Were Picked Up at St. Matthew Island in Bering Sea Friday—Schooner Great Bear Wrecked on Pinnacle Rock.

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 26.—The United States guard cutter McCulloch is expected to reach here tomorrow with the members of the Borden-Lane arctic expedition who were picked up yesterday at St. Matthew Island in Bering Sea where their new power schooner Great Bear was wrecked on August 10th.

A brief report received here said the wreck was the result of an attempt by Captain Lewis Lane, master of the ship and joint owner with John Borden, the Chicago millionaire, to investigate a report that another vessel had been wrecked in that vicinity. A great storm was raging and at 12:35 a. m., the Great Bear struck on Pinnacle Rock. The party aboard the Great Bear not only reached Shore safely but took from the wreck provisions on which they subsisted 15 days until found by the McCulloch, which was sent in search of them when the schooner was more than a week overdue at Nome. Nothing is known here of the vessel supposed to have been in need of assistance.

John Borden, a Chicago capitalist sportsman and traveller, with Captain Louis Lane of Seattle, was joint owner of the power schooner Great Bear, which, including her equipment cost $75,000. The boat was 137 feet long, 32 foot beam and had a draft of 14 feet and a speed of seven knots per hour.

The Great Bear carried 5,000 gallons of fuel and about $3,000 worth of provisions.

Captain Lane is thirty-six years old and for years has been a gold miner, fur trader and whaler. He was in active charge of the Great Bear.

AURORA BOREALIS CRIPPLES SERVICE

METEORIC DISPLAYS MOST DEPRESSING ON CIRCUITS IN MANY YEARS

Paths of Light Across Sky Observable for Four or Five Hours During Early Part of Night—Telegraph Service Suffered 50 Per Cent of Normal.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Meteoric displays running sometimes from the zenith to the horizon were observable tonight thruout the middle west, according to reports from a number of sections received here. Efforts to get a scientific explanation of the phenomena from Loyola and De Paul University observatories brought the information that the professors were not available. According to reports the paths of light across the sky were observable for four or five hours during the early part of the night.

The Postal Telegraph Company here reported that its business was greatly hampered by the electrical currents attributed to the meteoric display. This condition obtained in all directions for hundreds of miles around Chicago.

The Western Union Telegraph company reported that its east and north wires in particular were affected by the electrical currents. Wire chiefs of each telegraph company said that in many instances they were forced to abandon altogether their quadruple and duplex wires.

Service Seriously Crippled
New York, Aug. 26.—Telegraph and telephone service thruout the east and west was seriously crippled tonight by the Aurora Borealis, described by officials of companies in this city as perhaps the most depressing on wire circuits in many years. The disturbance was first observed about 7 P. M. By midnight, it was said, the service of the telegraph companies east of Chicago and as far west as Minneapolis, was only about 50 per cent normal. Southern circuits were not as much affected.

It was explained that in some instances the foreign battery caused by earth currents ranged from 75 volts positive to 75 volts negative. At Minneapolis where, it was said, the sky was unusually bright, both telegraph and telephone circuits virtually were put out of commission for several hours.

The fact that wires running east and west suffered more than those traveling in southern directions was attributed to parallel earth currents.

Must Produce More.

Merely a study of farm land prices in Illinois indicates that farming is each year becoming more complex—that is, if the farmer seeks to make a fair return upon the value of the land he owns. A tract of land in Henry county sold the other day at $320 an acre. That means the farmer to secure even a gross return of five per cent on his investment must make that farm yield on an average more than $15 an acre. The time was not so very long ago when the best land in Morgan county was rented at $5 and $6 an acre. The lesson is obvious.

The Auditor's Duties

"It's up to the auditor" in Illinois to see that no moneys are improperly paid from the state treasury. He must check up the funds and appropriations and see to it that the vouchers issued are in accordance with the legal provisions. No man in the state is better qualified for this service than Andrew Russell, who is seeking the Republican nomination. Mr. Russell has had years of banking experience and his public life has brought him into a thorough understanding of the business department of the state. If he is chosen for the office the taxpayers of the state may rely upon it that their interests will be guarded and that the state treasury box will not be unlocked until each account has been properly scrutinized and its legal status established.

Recreation Ideas.

Among the many "congresses" which will be held this year that of the international recreation association is by no means the least important. It will be held in Grand Rapids and more than 20,000 personal invitations have been issued. The play ground and recreation movement in this country has grown so rapidly that there are now 7,507 professional play leaders employed on 3,294 play grounds in 432 American cities. These figures are surprising when it is remembered that only in comparatively recent years has the public come to a realization of how intimately the play ground movement is associated with the good health and the good morals of children. Ours is a civilization that grows and no doubt another decade will see still more marked advances along lines tending to bettering the living conditions in both city and the country.

Will Explain the Law.

The government is taking wide action in arranging for various state meetings when the new farm loan law is to be explained. Such a meeting is to be held in Springfield, Sept. 21, when members of the commission appointed by the president will attend to answer questions and to ask questions in the expectation of getting some first hand knowledge of conditions in this section. Various claims have been made of the advantages which will come to farmers.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

BAD ROADS

The roads that lead to Hayseed Center make people's tempers warm; in vain, in vain, with voice of Stentor, I clamor for reform. The roads are full of holes and ridges, that bust our costly tires, and there are sway-backed, creaking bridges, together tied with wires. We have a lovely, growing city, at which the tourists shy; and it seems seven times a pity bad roads must black her eye. Our city hall is rich with gilding, we've churches and we've schools, and our large new gymnasium building is fixed with swimming pools. We have a bank and three physicians and in our public square there is a stand where our musicians play tunes beyond compare. We ought to grow, and yet we're shrunken, because our roads are bad, for folks won't come—unless they're drunken—to see our lovely grad. And still we'll fool away our taxes and have our roads a wreck, till we apply our little axes to some official neck.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

August 27, 1787.—The French and American inhabitants of Kaskaskia and Prairie du Rocher appointed Barthelemy Tardiveau as their agent in Congress, with the understanding that he was to receive one-tenth of all the land grants he could obtain from them.

A Million for Tractors

Additional interest was lent to the Bloomington tractor demonstration by the presence of two representatives of the Russian government who came to this country for the special purpose of investigating tractor work. It was stated that they have been commissioned by their government to purchase $1,000,000 worth of tractors for use in the war zone. The information is interesting, not only because of the increased business which will thus come to American manufacturers from this new line of war munitions purchases, but the more so as it emphasizes the development of the tractor in farm work. The national demonstrations which have been held this year have brought together thousands of spectators and it is very certain that a great industry has grown up in a few years' time which is certain to develop marvelously in the future.

In large farming operations it has already been shown that the tractor cuts down labor and also helps solve the increasing difficulty of securing workers. There are continued rumors that well known manufacturers have been conducting experiments which later on will result in a smaller type of tractor adapted for the work on the small farm. It is not too much to expect that the day is near at hand when even farmers of small means will own and operate a tractor for the very good reason that the investment will be less than for a good team of horses and the amount of work which can be accomplished vastly greater.

VERSES THAT SUGGEST DUTY.

Editor Journal.—In the Chicago Herald recently I noticed a letter from several soldier boys camped in Texas, saying they were lonely and that some received letters, but they received none, and begging for some mail to be sent to them.

Now if any friends to soldiers would like the names of these lads I will furnish them the same. We should not forget these lads who are giving up their pleasures that our flag and our country receive protection. I enclose the following lines composed for the occasion:

Send Our Boys a Letter.

Send our boys a letter friends,
Sad and lonely they,
On the Texas border,
Where they camp today.

Write the boys a letter girls
From the dear home lands,
While they tent beneath our "stars"
On the yellow sands.

Send the boys a message friends,
They are tried and true,
For in sunny Texas
They watch the flag for you.

Write the boys a letter girls
Cheer them all you may
For "Old Glory" and for you
They would die today.

Send the boys a message friends,
Boys who do and dare,
And at every fireside
Pray for them a prayer.

S. A. Hughes.

A Plan That Pays.

It is not a new theme but one which is worthy of more earnest consideration than has yet been given it in Morgan county, and that is the securing of a farm adviser. Some of the most progressive counties in Illinois have demonstrated the benefits which will come from the farm adviser movement. Government aid can be secured if the matter is taken up in the proper way and thus the expense incurred would be insignificant if divided among a goodly number of Morgan county farmers. One of the speakers at the chautauqua Saturday who has been successfully engaged in farm advised work, for several years, said that the yearly cost to each farmer in the county where he is working is not more than ten cents.

It is no doubt true that the first year the support for a farm adviser would have to come from a limited

The Miner's Proposal.

As the relations between the trainmen and the railroad presidents have become more critical and the possibility of a strike looms up more clearly upon the horizon, various suggestions have come for obviating the losses and inconveniences which a strike would bring. None of these suggestions are more notable than the one which the mine workers of the country are urging. Led by the miners of Illinois they will petition President Wilson to take over the railroads of the country within a few hours after a general strike order is issued, if that order comes. The miner leaders declare that the government has authority to take over a railroad when a receivership is found necessary and that this same authority should be extended to meet a crisis like this wherein the public is certain to suffer.

Objections can be urged to the plan but it has some features to recommend it and certainly such a condition would be much better than the chaos and inconvenience which would be certain to come from a country wide railroad tie-up. Such an order would certainly have the approval of those who believe in the government ownership of railroads, for the step from temporary management to governmental ownership would not be very great.

Primary Election Expenses

Fayette S. Munro, who has attracted so much attention by his connection with the Ferguson suits, which undoubtedly have called attention to illegal practices by the legislature and saved money for the state, has a penchant for figures. In his present campaign for nomination for attorney general, Mr. Munro paints in vivid colors the cost of primary elections. As Mr. Munro figures it, the candidates for office will spend in this campaign at least $2,500,000. Of this sum he declares that the candidates for the governorship are expending $1,200,000. There is no charge these expenditures are illegal but that they simply represent the cost of maintaining headquarters, sending out tons of literature and in various methods of advertising.

Any one at all familiar with political affairs who has figured on the cost will see that Mr. Munro is not far from the truth. But there will be no benefit from these figures and statistics unless some steps are later taken to amend the primary law, which has made these expenditures necessary for the candidates who seek offices. The primary election as now necessary under the law becomes a rich man's game and many able men are debarred from entering contests just for that reason. The only advantage which can be claimed is that the men who seek the larger offices must do so because of the honor involved and not from a salary standpoint.

Following this view it can be argued that such candidates will seek to really serve the people and make their administration notable in achievement. Nevertheless, a primary law which necessitates such large expenditures is wrong.

FAIRBANKS FAMILY REUNION

Dedham, Mass., Aug. 26—Several hundred descendants of Jonathan Fairbanks, who came from Sowerby, Yorkshire, England, in 1636, and settled in this town, came here today to take part in the fourteenth annual reunion of the Fairbanks family in America. One of the most notable members of the family association is Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, nominee of the Republicans for vice president of the United States.

Today's reunion was held in the old Fairbanks homestead, built by the founder of the American branch of the family soon after his arrival more, and believed to be the oldest dwelling in New England. Henry Irving Fairbanks, president of the association, presided at the reunion.

WILLIAM FARNUM

in his greatest play

"The New Governor"

adapted from Edward Sheldon's play, "THE NIGGER," in eight wonderful reels. The only difference between this subject and "Birth of a Nation" is four reels. Stupendous—Most Perfect Production ever produced.

In this play Edward Sheldon, America's most significant young dramatist handles unflinchingly and with unerring power, a modern problem that must be faced fairly and squarely by the people of the United States.

The topic which forms the motif of this striking drama is one which legislators and serious thinkers have grappled with unsuccessfully since the days of slavery. Mr. Sheldon is the first playwright however who has had the courage to tackle the subject dramatically.

In the William Fox production, William Farnum, America's most popular young actor gives a sublime performance of the self sacrificing hero, Philip Morrow. Under the masterful directorship of Edgar Lewis, the enthralling drama works out to the proportions of a mighty epic of modern American life dealing as it does with the gravest social, moral and political conditions.

A $100,000 photoplay, 1,000 people, 500 scenes taken in New York, Washington, D. C., and Augusta, Ga.

In the Chautauqua program of Saturday there was not an unprofitable moment, for the speakers dealt in the main with things agricultural, so well were the subjects designed for "Farmer's Day" presented that the sessions proved as entertaining as they were instructive.

With the close of this evening's program, the fifth annual assembly of Jacksonville Chautauqua will be at an end. Attendance has exceeded the records of all former years. More have taken advantage of the camping facilities. The ticket subscriptions have already passed the twenty-five hundred mark, and there seems little reason to doubt that the five hundred needed at this time to assure next year's assembly will be secured before the day has come to a close.

The Saturday afternoon program was opened with a concert by the Metropolitan Grand quartet, an organization which pleased from the very first number and which seemed even better in the performance of Saturday evening. Sam Jordan of Missouri was heard in an interesting farm lecture, and J. W. Kirkton of Livingston county, Illinois, told of the work of the county adviser from the farmer's viewpoint.

Hon. Percival G. Renick of Peoria has been secured to take the place of Senator Kenyon of Iowa, detained in Washington by the press of business during the closing days of congress. The senator had hoped to fill the few chautauqua engagements for which he was booked this year and it was not until two or three days ago that he notified the local management that he could not be present. Mr. Renick is a man of considerable experience in chautauqua work. In his repertoire are included three lectures on themes of national interest and the subject of the afternoon lecture will be announced on the arrival of the speaker today.

The Metropolitan quartet showed a high degree of ability in their programs Saturday, presenting with equal skill the simplest melody and such selections as "The Sextette from Lucia." At both programs today the quartet will be warmly welcomed. DeWillo has given general satisfaction with his concertina entertainments and his two appearances today are anticipated with interest.

In "Birds and Bugs" Prof. J. P. Gilbert gave some startling facts with regard to the tremendous economic importance of bird life. Starting with the statement that more than a billion dollars is lost each year thru insect ravages, he continued with many more facts of vital interest, illustrating the talk by an excellent collection of slides.

Rough Sledding for New Ideas.
The first speaker of the afternoon was Sam Jordan, farm advisor from Pettit county, Mo. The speaker after some introductory remarks which put the audience in a good humor, talked along practical farm themes, citing specific instances of what had been accomplished in Missouri by the farm advisor work. He said that there are very few people who have entirely new ideas and that the most of us must be satisfied with making the best progress we can by applying other people's ideas. Then he pointed out how Columbus, Washington, Lincoln, Edison, George Westinghouse and Cyrus McCormick were men with great ideas who found it difficult at first to get a hearing. He said that ideas worth while always have the hardest road to travel for a time and this had in some measure been true of advance methods in agriculture.

Bringing the thought down to present days he referred to the automobile. At first farmers looked askance at the automobile but in a few years' time they found that it is one of the greatest and best friends that the farmer has. Then some practical questions were asked the audience by the speaker. He asked how many of them could tell buckhorn or plantain in clover seed; red top sorrel in alsike clover; Canadian thistle in blue grass or clover. There were comparatively few who declared by the uplifted hand that they could detect these weeds in seed.

Then Mr. Jordan said, "As farm advisor or agent in Pettit county, I caught four lots of seed at Sedalia which had Canadian thistle in them.

In one lot there was enough seed to plant nineteen thistles in every rod on which the clover was scattered. As a result the seed was sent back to the firm by which it had been shipped. Doubtless it was then forwarded to some other county where the farmers had no crop bureau to protect them. I have known of farmers using commercial fertilizer who did not know the kind and therefore could not know whether it was especially suited to their needs. You can tell by the way crops are behaving what the soil needs. If you have potatoes that grow all to tops and with very small potatoes, you know that the ground needs fertilizing.

Value In Wood Ashes.
"Wood ashes will supply the soil deficiency for that will provide the potash and the lime. I note one young man in this audience said that he knew what the wood ashes supplied and this instance illustrates the fact that we are teaching the young farmer of today things that we were ignorant about years ago. In two years previous to my going into Pettit county the total loss from hog cholera had been $256,000. It was about that time that the government decided to make some investigations and because we had a soil organization with a membership of 667 farmers we were able to secure the location of one experiment station in that county. The government spent there nearly $50,000 in its investigation work. As a result the ravages of the disease were stopped there, but that was not the greatest benefit for the farmers were taught how they could combine to fight the disease.

Weeds In Seed.
"I found farmers in that county who were sowing at least six per cent buckhorn. The work has been to teach them about seed, to encourage the growth of clover and alfalfa. I am holding here before you a bunch of soy beans raised on the farm of Ralph Ford near Greenfield. I do not know the young man but I know that he is on the right track, for by raising soy beans or cow peas as was done in this case in a corn field, it is possible to put more fertility in the soil than would come from a crop of clover. In a number of instances I have known where both soy beans and cow peas were planted in the corn fields. You ask how it is possible to harvest them. The plan we have followed is to turn lambs into the cornfields and they clean up the beans and peas and eat some leaves from the lower part of the corn. In my own case, for I am an actual farmer, the profit per lamb was $1 and at the same time a vast amount of fertility for the soil was secured. In Pettit county the farmers had been sending away large sums each year for the purchase of seed but we have made such development there that now instead of sending for seed they are shipping seed away and bringing the money back to their home county. The seed men who live in the county are now selling ten times as much clover as was formerly true. Our bureau protects both the farmer and the dealer. We examine seed for the dealer and make the necessary tests for weeds.

Some of the Benefits.
"In teaching the farmers how to combat cholera, how to avoid bad seed and that a great deal can be done to offset the ravages of the Hessian fly, our farm development work has been vastly profitable to Pettit county aside from other activities which have been developed. It is necessary that we farmers today realize the problem which is presented to our sons. They must pay four to eight times as much as we did for land and unless they are able to make four blades of grass grow where one has grown before, it is easy to figure what confronts them. An impoverished soil means ruin for them and so it is our duty to this generation to keep up soil fertility. Notwithstanding the increase in prices I do not believe there was ever a better time to buy farm lands and have a chance of making it profitable. The reason for this feeling is the widespread interest in soil development problems and the increasing recognition that is given this subject."

Out Smut Treatment.
Following Mr. Jordan's excellent address announcement was made by President Worthington and then J. W. Kirkton, a farmer of Livingston county was introduced by Mr. Dial. Mr. Kirkton's theme was "What Our County Adviser Has Done for Us." In Livingston county, in which Pontiac is the largest city, some very excellent work has been done by the crop improvement association and farm adviser. Mr. Kirkton, who is an extensive land holder there, is enthusiastic over the benefits which may come from the adviser's work. He quoted various facts and conditions to prove the benefits. In 1912 just one per cent of the oats sowed in Livingston county were treated for smut and in 1915, 8,616 pints of formaldehyde were used for this treatment. This amount was sufficient to treat eighty eight per cent of all the oats planted and the increase in yield was five and six tenths per cent. This increase on 188,000 acres meant an increased yield of 1,042,800 bushels, with a money value of $364,980. By comparison with the results obtained the cost of the formaldehyde was insignificant for one pint will furnish the treatment for about sixty bushels of oats.

"The farm records in Livingston county show that since the organization of the crop improvement bureau there have been average increases in yield as follows: wheat, 7 bushels; corn, 10 bushels; oats, 20 bushels; During that time 300 fields have been planted in alfalfa and various

CONCORD

Mrs. Chas. Aufdenkamp and sister Mrs. Chas. Obertate, and their children, who were accompanied by the Misses Letha Eilers and Enda Unkenand George Korsmeyer, returned Wednesday evening from a big automobile trip. They started about four weeks ago in a big Cadillac touring car and a Ford car. They had no machine trouble to speak of, except two blow outs on the return trip, the last one being on Bluffs, only about ten miles from home. Another tire was secured from Chapin and the long journey of 2630 miles completed.

They went from here to Keokuk, and saw the big dam. From there they went to Nebraska City and stopped at Diller, to see Mrs. Wolters, who is a sister of "Uncle" George Perbix, a well known, old time resident of Concord precinct. At Hastings, Nebraska, they visited two brothers and a sister of Chas. Aufdenkamp, namely, George and Fred, and Mrs. Neinhiser. From Hastings they went to Denver and camped in a large park provided by the city, which is greatly appreciated by auto tourists. From Denver they made a number of side trips. The points mentioned to the Journal reporter being Colorado Springs, Boulder, Mountains, Lookout Mountain, Pikes Peak, Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds and many such places of interest.

John Snyder, of Alexander, was attending to affairs in the city yesterday.

FARM LOAN BOARD TO HOLD HEARING AT STATE CAPITAL

Purpose Is To Secure Information To Guide Board In Administering New Law.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Hearings of great importance to farmers, farm organizations and cities throughout the country are to be conducted by the newly appointed Federal Farm Loan Board.

One for the State of Illinois will be held in the federal building at Springfield on September 21, 1916. This hearing is to secure information to guide the board in determining the boundaries of the twelve Federal land bank districts into which the United States is to be divided for the administration of the new rural credits law, known as the Federal Farm Loan Act.

The members of the Federal Farm Loan Board who will conduct the hearings are Hon. Wm. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury; Geo. W. Norris, Farm Loan Commissioner; Herbert Quick, Capt. W. S. A. Smith, and C. E. Loben.

The board has requested farmers, farm organizations, and others interested to furnish at each of these hearings facts concerning the need of cheaper farm loans, and it has asked interested cities to present claims for the location of one of these land banks. This will be the only hearing in the state of Illinois.

The new Federal Farm Loan Act will do for the farmer what the Federal Reserve Act is doing for the business man. Under it the government provides the machinery for assembling capital to be loaned to farm owners or prospective farm owners, on first mortgage farm security. The loans cannot exceed 50 per cent. of the value of the land and 20 per cent. of the value of the permanent improvements. The loans will be made at a low rate of interest not yet determined, but not over 6 per cent, and provision is made for the borrower to pay off the loan and interest in small annual or semi-annual payments at his option, during a period of not less than five years nor more than forty years. Farmers, to avail themselves of the benefits of the law, must first organize themselves in groups of ten or more to obtain a charter as a farm loan association and there after application for loans can be made through it to one of the twelve Federal land banks. The land will then be appraised, and if it meets requirements, the loans will be made.

The new legislation is expected to prove a great boon to those sections of the country where development has been retarded because of high interest rates, and it is predicted that it will have the effect of making agricultural prosperity permanent and uniform, stabilizing land values and greatly improving general farm conditions.

Thousands of requests to the U. S. Treasury department for information regarding the application of the law indicate the great nation-wide interest in its provisions.

Secretary McAdoo predicts that the banks will be ready for operation January 1st or shortly thereafter.

W. A. Furr, former superintendent of schools was a visitor in the city Saturday. Mr. Furr is now associated with the State Normal School at Carbondale and is engaged at the present time in doing institute work. He has been spending the summer with Mrs. Furr in Michigan and returned to do some institute work at Olney. He came here for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Dan Clark, who lives east of the city and goes from here to Livingston county for institute work. He expects to meet Mrs. Furr in Ottawa where they will visit a week before returning to Carbondale.

GEORGE TANDY RETURNS TO SCHOOL

George Tandy, who has been making a brief visit in the city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Tandy left Saturday for Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where he is attending the University of North Carolina. Mr. Tandy drove thru from Chapel Hill with his mother in their Buick car. He is captain of the university football team this year and goes back early in order to begin practice for the coming season. Mr. Tandy has been selected as all southern center for the past two years and expects to have the best team in the history of the school this fall.

AUTO TRAVELERS

Jacksonville was visited yesterday by Prof. A. H. Topping of Lafayette, Indiana, professor in the electrical department of Purdue University. The gentleman was on the way home from Lawrence, Kansas, where he had been visiting friends and relatives. He was accompanied by his wife and three children and carried a camping outfit and was traveling independently. He also had a Scotch collie dog which was peacefully riding on the running board and all the occupants of the car seemed happy and in good health and spirits. Prof. Topping proved to be a very pleasant gentleman and one whom it was a pleasure to meet.

Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

R (ORD AL' IN FOUR EVENTS AT CENTRAL A. A. U. ANNUAL MEET

Mucks Breaks Shotput Record, Boyer
The Three Mile Walk and Landis
The Pole Vault Record.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Records fell in four events at the Central A. A. U. annual outdoor meet at Stagg field today. Another was tied when Andy Ward of the Chicago Athletic association won the 100 yard dash from Joe Loomis in 9 4-5 seconds, but the wind was at the sprinter's back and the mark probably will not be allowed. Loomis who carried the colors of the Chicago A. C., was the individual star winning first place in the high jump and the 220 yard hurdles and taking second in the century.

Artie Mucks of Wisconsin raised his A. A. U. shotput record two inches to 46 feet, 8 1-4 inches. Boyer of the Mystic A. C. won the three mile walk in new record time of 22:50 and Sherman Landis, the Oregon high school lad, set a new mark in the pole vault of twelve feet 7 5-8 inches. The old pole vault record was 12 feet, 5 7-8 inches. In the half mile Earl Eby of the C. A. A. won in 1:54 3-5, beating 1:55 4-5 made by Campbell, University of Chicago, last year. Campbell finished third today. Bechtel of the I. A. C., taking second. Joie Ray won the five mile run. Ivan Meyers, the former DePaul athlete won a brilliant race from Mike Moran of the University of Illinois. Ray was third.
Other athletes who stared were Bush, who took the high hurdles with Mc-Keown, second and Pogue, who won the broad jump.

Mucks took the discus with a heave of 143 feet. Husted of Illinois was second. Burke of Wisconsin finished first in the 440 yard low hurdles, but was disqualified and first place went to Beatty, I. A.
C. The meet was a walkover for the Chicago Athletic association on points.

A TY COBB ANNIVERSARY

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—Tyus
Raymond Cobb, who shares with Henry Ford the honor of being De-by lining up with his team in a game against the Boston Red Sox. It was on Aug. 26, 1905, that Cobb then a tall, raw-boned youth with a brief experience as a ball player with the Augusta, Ga., team, made his American league debut in a Detroit uniform. It was not long before the young Southerner developed into one of the greatest players the game has ever known. For nine successive seasons he has been champion bats-

The Value of Consolidated Schools in Agricultural Development

The little one room district school house is fast disappearing in Indiana. Country boys and girls are now receiving their instruction in buildings that are well equipped, well lighted and sanitary. Seventy-one of the ninety-two counties of the state report consolidation of schools at the present time. It is also reported that 35 per cent of the pupils of all rural schools attended consolidated schools last year.

As further evidence that the number of consolidated schools in Indiana is rapidly increasing and that much larger numbers of pupils receive instruction in these schools each year, statistics have been taken from the last report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. In 1910 Indiana had 425 consolidated schools with an attendance of 29,215 pupils. 13,051 pupils were transported.

In 1914 Indiana had 665 consolidated schools with an attendance of 73,404 pupils. The number of pupils transported reached 26,403. In our public schools we claim equal advantages for all. Thousands of country children are forced to attend one-room schools that are unsightly, unsanitary, poorly lighted and equipped and where the teachers many times are unprepared for the work and over-burdened with a multiplicity of duties. Are these children given the same opportunity as those that have the advantage of modern buildings with modern equipment and with the best and highest class of instruction?

Today, Indiana, as well as many other states, is requiring by law the teaching of Agriculture, Domestic Science and Manual Training in all of the schools. The times demand this form of instruction. The children are ready and anxious to take it up. With few exceptions the patrons of the schools approve of this work which will connect up the schools with the home and instill in the minds of the children a love for labor and industry and a respect for the occupations of the parents.

The handicap to this great nationwide movement is the untrained and uninterested teachers, and the lack of proper buildings and equipment with which to do the desired work.

While instruction in the vocational subjects can be given in an interesting and fairly satisfactory way by a trained teacher in a one-room school, yet it must be admitted by all that instruction in these subjects in a school with modern equipment, well arranged laboratories and trained teachers under close supervision is more complete and of greater value to the students.

Vocational work in Agriculture and Domestic Science in the schools will be of greatest value and mean most to boys and girls, when the lessons and principles taught in the class room and laboratories can find application in the work of the boys and girls on the farm and in the home. This home work of the boys and girls should be placed on a project basis, should be supervised by the school instructor and should receive school credit.

In the case of consolidated schools it is possible to engage special teachers for Agriculture, Domestic Science and Manual Training. The number of students in the work and the special equipment justify the expense. The Agricultural and Domestic Science instructors can be hired on a 12-months basis. These teachers will use the summer months in directing and supervising the work of boys and girls in the home and on the farm. Corn growing, pig raising, bread baking, fruit canning and other lines of work will be carried on by the children under the guidance of those teaching them during the school year. Such work is of untold value. There is incentive for boys and girls to apply directly the teachings of the class room and to do well in every detail definite pieces of work. They learn that in this work brains count. They prove the value of scientific methods. They demonstrate that farming is not mere drudgery, but a business demanding and paying for the best brains and efforts of the best men and women. Further, when a teacher spends the summer working with the pupils and parents a different viewpoint is gained than if he or she, at the close of the schools term, leaves the community to spend the vacation at some resort. As a result of this home project supervision the work of the following year in the class room will be practical and related to the interests of the community. Agriculture and country life will be advanced and influenced most when schools are consolidated so as to permit the hiring of special teachers on a 12-months basis.

Consolidated schools located in the country serve as community centers. Here meetings of the Farmers' Club, Home Economics Class, Farmers' Institutes and other organizations may be held. The equipment also permits in most cases the holding of Farmers' Short Courses, Domestic Science Demonstrations, Lectures, Concerts, plays and similar organized courses.

Along with the movement for a more productive agriculture and larger financial returns for the farmer must go hand in hand the development of a better country life. Money alone will not keep people on the farm. There must be ample opportunity for all to have good local organizations, to hear good lectures, and concerts and to take an active part in some form of recreation. The school, with its accommodations and equipment and the leadership of trained teachers is in a position to meet in a large measure this long-felt need.

Time To Sell

It is said to be a good business maxim to buy when others want to sell and sell when others want to buy.

That is not just the way we farmers do. When farm products are high we hold on, for fear they have not yet reached the pinnacle, and when they are low we let them go for fear they have not quite reached the bottom.

In the early nineties, when wheat was selling at 50 cents per bushel, my honest German neighbor said to me, "By golly, I got to let my wheat go. It don't any more give me any pleasure at all." In less than a year wheat was selling at $1 per bushel, and the Leiter boom followed in less than two years when it reached $1.50.

It seems hard for us to realize that the safe time to hold is when things are low, and especially when they are abnormally low, and that it is unsafe to hold when the market is excited and high.

There are two classes of business farmers; the sellers and the holders. And I have noticed that, on a whole, the sellers are the better business men and realize the greater profit from the sale of their products.

Farmers are producers and speculation is out of their line, and if they feel an ungovernable desire to speculate they had better buy margins. The agony would not be so long drawn out; they could sooner lose their all.

I don't want to imply that produce should be invariably sold as soon as it is ready, regardless of the price. I believe we should study the markets and sell according to our best judgment, holding when abnormally low, and selling when a fair paying price is being offered.

When wheat was selling at 50 cents per bushel I fed it to lambs and sold the lambs at 6 cents per pound, and I calculated that marketing in that way, it brought me at least $1 per bushel.

During the Leiter boom a man who had 1,000 bushels of wheat in his granary was offered at $1.55 per bushel by the miller. "No sir," he said, "I've got a $2 market on every kernel of that wheat." He held it till it got down to 85 cents and then told the miller if he wanted that wheat to send his team out and get it. "For," he said, "I won't be seen hauling $1.55 wheat thru the town for 85 cents."

Another man who had 1,200 bushels began to haul it to market, and with the first load met a man coming from town who told him wheat was off 5 cents—it was worth only $1.45. He turned around with his load, took it back to his barn, and kept the whole of it till it got down to 85 cents, and then let it go.

I could name dozens of similar instances. Everybody is familiar with them. A peculiar thing about it is, people don't usually profit by such experiences. They'd do the same thing again under similar circumstances.

The farmer who isn't afraid to sell his produce when it is ready for market and brings a fair paying price will for a term of years, beat the holder by a comfortable margin. —E. P. S., in the Farmers' Review, Chicago.

Engine Lubrication

It is a regrettable fact that there are no hard and fast rules by which the engine operator may be guided in engine lubrication. An oil which will give perfect satisfaction under one set of conditions will be all but useless under another. The season of the year, varying temperatures, altitude, all these have their effect, and none of them seems to affect all engine oils alike. For these reasons the operator must rely upon observation and experiment and must do some experimenting under which an oil which will satisfy the conditions under which his particular engine must operate. The only safe rule to follow is that the best oil is none too good, and with oil, quality very often is determined by the price. The very poorest economy the engine operator can practice is to try to save a few cents per gallon in the cost of his lubricating oil.

This applies with more than ordinary emphasis to the oil which shall be used for lubricating the cylinder. In order to be successful a cylinder oil must have a viscosity which will always maintain a film of oil between the piston and the cylinder walls, and yet not be so thick as to gum and stick the piston rings. It must be able to withstand a wide range of and stick the piston rings. It must survive the intense heat within the cylinder without burning up and leaving a carbon deposit. These are difficult conditions and it must be evident that none but the best oil is likely to meet them successfully. This warrants the conclusion that if one must practice economy in operating his engine, a mighty bad place to start is in a cheapening of the lubricating oil. The Farmers' Review, Chicago.

SUFFRAGE NEWS LETTER

The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association will hold its Annual Convention in Springfield. Urgent invitations from Mayor Charles T. Bauman, the Sangamon County County Suffrage Association, the Springfield Commercial Association have been received, and it has seemed wise to change place of meeting from Galesburg to Springfield on account of the present legislative and Supreme Court situations. This reason is further augmented by the fact that a large number of organizations in the extreme southern portion of the state have recently come into the state organization. Thus making Springfield the most central and consequently the most convenient place for holding a state convention.

There will be no vote on the Federal Suffrage Amendment at the present session of Congress. Senator Thomas, of Colorado, chairman of the Senate Woman Suffrage Committee, has informed Mrs. Frank Roesing, chairman of the Congressional Committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association that in his opinion it is unwise to bring the amendment forward at the present session since a number of western Senators favorable to equal suffrage have been obliged to absent themselves from Washington and will not return during this session.

At a meeting of the State Board held Wednesday, Aug. 16, the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association passed the following resolution: "The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association does not stand for the policy of endorsing or attacking political parties. The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association stands for the principle of political equality regardless of all parties, all sects, all peoples—it is all-partisan." This is a declaration of principles on the part of the state suffrage association. It arises out of the wide publicity that has been given to the policy of boycotting the Democrats and opposing President Wilson's re-election, assumed by certain groups of suffragists because the Federal Amendment has not been passed during the present administration.

Sound logic lies back of the resolution. Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans can deliver the Federal Woman Suffrage Amendment single handed. To secure a Federal Amendment requires a vote of two-thirds of both houses of congress. It is not likely that the Republicans will control Congress to that extent even supposing a Republican president is in the chair. Therefore, to secure the submission of the Amendment will require some measure of Democratic support.

Further, when the Amendment has passed Congress it must then be submitted to the legislatures of the states and be ratified by three-fourths of them before it becomes part of the Federal constitution. It is altogether unlikely that at any a majority in the thirty-six legislatures the Republicans will command votes necessary for ratification. With these facts before them it has seemed unwise for any group of suffragists to incur the strong personal antagonism of the Democratic party which is sure to accrue to any systematic policy of boycotting. The State organization has already expressed itself. The same questions will be considered by the National organization at their convention to be held at Atlantic City, early in September. While it cannot be said positively what action the National organization will take, it is still a fact that Mrs. Catt, president of the National, after talking with President Wilson two weeks ago, declares that she shall urge the Association against entering partisan politics. Also Mrs. Frank Roesing, chairman of the Congressional committee, has declared herself to the same effect. There is a wide feeling among suffragists that the net result of a partisan stand taken at the present time might be likely to delay the securing of the ballot to women for many years.

Illinois thunder was carried into Wisconsin Monday when a delegation of Chicago suffragists addressed a suffrage meeting held at the Delavan Chautauqua grounds, Delavan Lake, Wisconsin. Among those who attended were: Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, Mrs. Albert Schweizer, Mrs. Charles Nagely, Mrs. Harriett Stokes Thompson, Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. Julius Loeb, and Mrs. Stella S. Jannotta.

FOOTBALL AT CALIFORNIA

Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 25.—Football practice begins at the University of California today, the players of the Berkeley institution being the first in the country to don their moleskins in preparation for the 1916 campaign. California is believed to have some excellent gridiron material this year and there will be no end of competent coaches to whip it into shape. Andy Smith is to continue in supreme charge of the team and among his assistants will be Bobby Vaughn, his old-time mate at Purdue, and Eddie Mahan, the former Harvard star.

W. T. Dodsworth and family left yesterday for their home in Berkeley, California, after a three months visit in Franklin, Ill.

THE HUSTLING BROWNS

The Browns have finished in the first division only twice in the fourteen years they have been in the American league, in 1902 and 1908. Four times—in 1905, 1910, 1911 and 1913—they have been locked in the cellar.

Ten years ago, Fielder Jones, now manager of the White Sox, pulled his team up from nowhere and won 19 straight games. The sensational spurt won the pennant for the Sox, who later downed the Cubs in the world's series.

St. Louis hasn't had a pennant winner since the days of the old American association. While members of the old organization the Browns brought home four pennants in a row, 1885-6-7-8.

George Sisler, the Brown's wonder, is credited with being the most versatile pastime in the big yard. He is there as a pitcher, a baseman, or an outfielder, and likewise as a batsman and base runner.

Koob, a youngster, and the two veterans, Plank and Groom, have carried the pitching burden for the Jones crowd all season.

While the Browns have been making their spectacular pennant race the team has remained a second-division outfit in both club batting and club fielding.

Winning fourteen straight games started the Browns on the road to Pennantville and at the same time established the season's record in the American league.

The owners of the Browns have hung up a bonus of $5000 to be divided among the players if they cop the pennant.

Not all of the glory for the Browns' showing belongs to the youngsters of the team. Old-timers like Wallace, Plank, Groom, Hartley and Miller have been keeping step with the younger players and appear fit to go the full distance.

Eddie Plank, the veteran twirler who has thrown the speed throttle wide open in an effort to pitch the Browns to a pennant, started pastime fifteen years ago with the Athletics. Up to the present year, his last season's record with the Federal league included, he has won 222 games and lost 164.

Schalk of the White Sox and Schang of the Athletics, who are recognized as the class of American league backstops, will now have to share the spotlight with Hank Severeid. Hank's work behind the plate and his batting have been gleeful doings for the Browns.

In Shotton, Marsans, Sisler and Pratt, the Browns have the speediest quartet under the big top. They are among the first ten base stealers in the American league, and woe is right for the fielder who hesitates a fraction of a second in an attempt to nip 'em on the paths.

None of the Browns is leading in any department of the game, but as a team they are a hard bunch to beat.

SPECIAL TAX NOTICE

Notice is Hereby Given to All Persons Interested

That the City Council of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois, having ordered that a local improvement consisting of a street pavement be constructed on Prairie Street in said City, beginning at the South line of the intersection of said Prairie Street with West Lafayette Avenue in said City, running thence South to a point eighteen (18) feet North of the South line of Edgmon Street in said City; which shall be constructed by excavating for the width as shown by the plans, plats and profiles on file in the office of the City Clerk; after excavating there shall be laid a concrete foundation, a binder course of stone and asphaltic cement, and upon this shall be placed a wearing surface of sheet asphalt; a combined concrete curb and gutter shall be constructed on each side of said roadway also catch-basins and iron inlets all of which is further shown and more particularly described in the plans, plats, profiles and specifications for said work, on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City to which reference is hereby made; the Ordinance for the same being on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, and also made part of the petition in this proceeding and said City having applied to the County Court of Morgan County, Illinois, for the confirmation of the assessment of the cost of said improvement according to the benefits, and an assessment thereof having been made and returned to said Court; the final hearing thereon will be held on the 11th day of September A. D. 1916, at 9 o'clock a. m., or as soon thereafter as the business of the Court will permit, and all persons desiring so to do may file objections in said Court before said date, and may appear on said hearing and make their defense.

It is further provided by said ordinance, that said assessment shall be collected in ten (10) installments, with interest at the rate of five per cent annum, as provided by law. Dated at Jacksonville, Illinois, this 23rd day of August, A. D. 1916.

Walter B. Rogers, Commissioner appointed to make said Assessment.

GRAND ARMY MEN ASSEMBLE

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—The arrangements for the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, with its several affiliated bodies, which will hold forth in Kansas City next week, were completed today. In connection with the meetings of the Grand Army there will be held the annual gatherings of the National Woman's Relief Corps, the National Daughters of Veterans, the National Sons of Veterans, the National Ladies' Aid Society, the National Ladies of the G. A. R., the National Army Nurses' Association, the National Association of Naval Veterans, and the National ex-Prisoners of War.

The meetings and reunions of these various organizations will continue thru the entire week. The feature of the week will be the parade of Grand Army men on Wednesday, when, it is expected, veterans variously estimated at from fifteen to twenty-five thousand will be in line. Another event of the week, tho not included in the official program, will be the visit of Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President. Mr. Hughes is scheduled to be in Kansas City on Friday and it is expected that thousands of the old soldiers and their friends will crowd Convention Hall on Friday night to hear his address.

The court of honor and other main features of the decorative scheme are being hurried to completion. Convention Hall, where the main sessions of the encampment will be held, together with numerous other public buildings, hotels and large office structures, are already brilliantly lighted out in the national colors. A bird's-eye view of the business center today shows workmen busy on tops of all the large retail stores preparing the decorations put in place on the fronts of their respective buildings.

A surprise is in store for everybody, for the displays will be most elaborate. Huge G. A. R. emblems, mottoes and other electrical effects and some entirely new displays are to be seen in the downtown district. A favorite form of decoration is a huge American flag of electric lights, which is equally effective day or night.

Altho the opening of the encampment is still two days away, the railroad depots, hotels and downtown streets already present many advance signs of the great annual reunion. Visitors are already arriving in large number and tomorrow the rush will be on in earnest. None of the posts arrived today in bodies, yet there were many uniforms among the visitors.

Special attention will be paid to the care and comfort of women visitors who will be in the city during encampment week. The management of the large retail stores have offered to attend to this work. Rest rooms, toilet rooms and other facilities that will be needed and appreciated will be provided. Information booths and emergency hospitals and relief stations will be established at convenient points about the city. Hundreds of guides will be on duty and will assist the police and others in handling the thousands of strangers.

Much interest centers in the choice of the new commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. Altho no active candidates have come into the field as yet, the names of several prominent veterans are already mentioned in connection with the honor and it is anticipated that a lively contest will develop before the election takes place.

Boston, according to advance information, intends to make a strong bid for the next national encampment. So far nothing has been done by any other city in this direction, at least publicly. As the encampment meets this year in the west it is expected that in accordance with established custom an Eastern city will be selected as the next entertaining place. Since Boston is the first in the field and is understood to have been doing considerable quiet campaigning for nearly a year it is the general belief that she stands an excellent chance of securing the encampment. In her efforts in this direction the Massachusetts city expects to have the support of all of the New England veterans and probably those of New York, and several other states of the east.

BACK FROM CALIFORNIA

J. O. Priest and family have returned from a pleasant trip to the Pacific coast. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Priest, daughters, Winnie and Martha; Mrs. Hurd, Mrs. Priest's mother, and Miss Pearl Frost. The party visited San Francisco, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Sacramento, and other interesting points and returned by way of Denver where they visited a few days and then home. Miss Frost left the party at Denver and went to Coffeyville, Kansas, to visit home friends for a while before returning to her duties here.

Mr. Priest reports a very pleasant and profitable trip and says that all come home in fine health and spirits. While in California he saw Thad Eastman who was well.

RETURN TO KANSAS

James Halligan, daughters Mazie and Vivian and son James have returned to their home Chanute, Kansas, after a pleasant visit of three weeks with relatives and friends in this vicinity. They are making the journey in their automobile.

Prominent among the foreign speakers to be heard are Rev. P. W. Philpott of Hamilton, Ont., Rev. Charles Inglis of London; Rev. William P. Nicholson, of Belfast; Rev. Joseph W. Kemp of Edinburgh and Pastor William Petter, who has been called "the Modern Apostle Paul of Russia."

Newt Wilson and Ervin Emmerson were in the city yesterday from Sinclair.

A FINE COMBINATION RANGE

Many Flock to the Store of Andre & Andre and Are Pleased with the Round Oak.

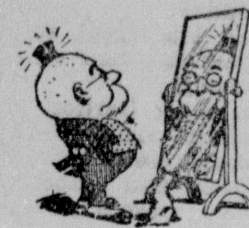

The Round Oak Range which is being exhibited at the store of Andre & Andre is certainly a fine article for the kitchen. It is a combination gas and fuel range all in one, compact, easy to manage, durable and economical. The ample oven can be used for baking either with gas or other fuel while the broiler of the gas range is a fine feature. A great many have been at the store to see the range and all come away delighted. The warming oven is capacious and all about it is supplied with the best and latest conveniences.

WALKED TO ST. LOUIS

Robert Burns, famous as a pedestrian and who visited Jacksonville at the time of the Burlington Way convention, has sent a card to the Journal stating that he had completed his walk to St. Louis and expected to start on his return trip Saturday. The pedestrian wore a sign on his back in St. Louis advertising the Burlington Way and naturally attracted considerable attention.

Be particular. Examine the seemingly little things about the car you buy.

IT'S the "little" things that make motoring a pleasure or a constant source of annoyance.

The car you've been thinking about—does it have electric starter and lights, demountable rims, rain-vision windshield, speedometer, one-man mohair top? Does it have an irreversible steering gear, linoleum running boards and floor boards?

Does it have, as the Maxwell has, all these refinements, good appearance, an enviable reputation and an unequalled record for endurance and economy?

This is a vital matter to you. Make sure.

FEAR OF RAILROAD STRIKE SENDS WHEAT PRICES DOWN

Close is 3 to 2 Cents Lower—Showers Over Illinois and Iowa Help Depress Price of Corn.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Fear of a railroad strike was among the influences which sent the wheat market down for net losses of from 1/2 to 2c today. Corn declined 1/2 to 1c and oats 1/2 to 3/4c. December and January lard were exceptions to weakness in the provision pit. The wheat market at the opening displayed a bit of strength on the export situation but it was short lived. A brief recovery punctuated the subsequent decline but it failed to hold and prices sagged and closed close to the bottom. The week's receipts were slightly less than shipments, a matter in which the car shortage figured largely. There was a lot of long corn for sale today and the weakness of wheat deterred new investment.

Pressure was particularly severe on December which declined 1 1/2c from the top and showed a net loss at the end of the session of 1/2c. Showers over Illinois and Iowa with a forecast of more helped depress the price of corn.

Oats declined with wheat and corn and closed at the bottom although the weekly movement of the crop was the largest in years, 2,780,000 bushels more than a year ago at this time.

Purchases of December and January lard by Eastern shorts sent those deliveries up. September pork dropped 30 and December 15c. September and October lard declined 1/4, while ribs gained 2 1/2c. December lard advanced 25c and January ribs 15c.

HISTORIC MARKET

90 YEARS OLD

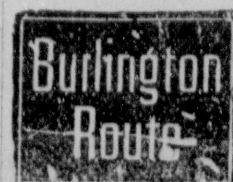

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—Historic Faneuil Hall Market, familiar to all visitors to Boston, perked up a bit today in celebration of its 90th birthday. The long, low building, occupying a site immediately to the rear of Faneuil Hall, has practically the same outward appearance as it did when it was first opened on Aug. 26, 1826. The structure is built of massive granite blocks which were hauled from the quarries at Quincy by ox teams. The market is familiarly called "Quincy Market" to distinguish it from the market in Faneuil Hall proper, the lower floor of which was used for market purposes as early as 1793, half a century after it was given to the town by Peter Faneuil.

CARNIVAL MAN ELECTROCUTED.

Havana, Ill., Aug. 25.—While hundreds of citizens of Mason county who were in the city tonight to witness a street carnival, they saw E. S. Smith, an electrician for a carnival company, electrocuted. Smith had just climbed a pole to adjust a transformer and start the illuminations when the accident occurred.

CHAUTAQUA ASSEMBLY WILL CLOSE TODAY

Investigations have been made as to catch crops and testing of the soil. As a result of the farm adviser's work, 15,000 tons of phosphate have been used on the Livingston county farms at a cost of $37,500 and 12,000 tons of limestone at a cost of $12,000. By co-operative buying of the phosphate and limestone at least $6,000 was saved for the farmers.

Advices Practical Work.
"Another result has been the introduction of sweet and mammoth clover and the 6,000 acres now planted in sweet clover are of great benefit to the farms. In addition, 7,000 acres have been planted in rape for pasturage for lambs. The association has maintained plots for testing corn and cooperative live stock purchases have brought in a better quality of stock and saved money on the first cost. There has been some extensive investigations as to the best balanced ration under given conditions.

The work of the adviser includes such practical matters as instructing farmers in the preparation of their binders and mowers, and answering questions about the best time to cut clover. Bulletins are issued from time to time giving important facts about smut in oats, various kinds of clover, cultivation of corn, combatting cholera, and soil conditions. The work of a farm adviser varies little in one community from another, except that there are differences in the soil. But aside from the direct returns that come from the county adviser's work in increasing yields thru better seed and better cultivation, greater benefits still accrue because of the lessons in co-operative work which necessarily come.

"When the crop improvement work began in Livingston county there were many doubters but as the work progressed the skeptical have been convinced and the farmer who is not a firm believer in the movement is difficult to find."

MORTUARY

Clements.

Thomas Riley Clements died at the residence of his son, J. H. Clements, 1300 South Clay avenue Saturday morning at 7:25 o'clock after an illness of several months. Death resulted from a complication of diseases.

Deceased was born in Woodside twelve miles south of Springfield, May 6, 1839, and lived in Sangamon county until 1887 when he came to Jacksonville where he has since resided. He was a farmer by occupation and followed that calling until a number of years ago.

He was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Ellison in Springfield in 1864. To this union three children were born two of whom with his wife preceded him in death. One son, J. H. Clements of this city, survives. Two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Hatton, and Mrs. Fanny Cloyde of Chatham, also survive.

Funeral services will be held from the residence of J. H. Clements Monday morning at 9 o'clock in charge of the Rev. W. W. Theobald. The remains will then be taken to Chatham for burial.

Dawson

A telegram received here by Mrs. Malissa Ellis announced the death of her brother, Josiah Dawson, at the Old Soldiers' home in Quincy, The deceased, who was seventy eight years of age, was for many years employed as a blacksmith at the establishment of J. W. Hall & Sons. He served for several years during the war of the Rebellion and was a man who had the respect of all who knew him. The deceased is survived by his wife, and three sons, Frank Dawson, Bailey Dawson and Earl Dawson. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: John Dawson of this city; Robert Dawson of Springfield; Newton Dawson of Oklahoma City; Charles Dawson of Louisiana; Minnie of Virginia, Ill.; Mrs. Hattie Stillwell, Independence, Kansas.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made and will be announced later.

FUNERAL IN IOWA

The remains of Miss Mary Daily of Ashland, who died at Our Savior's Hospital Friday, will be shipped today from O'Donnells Undertaking Parlor to Earlham, Iowa, where burial will be made. Henry and Isaac Daily, two brothers of the deceased who arrived in the city from their homes in Jewell county, Kansas, Saturday, will accompany the body to Iowa.

RURAL CARRIERS PICNIC

The rural mail carriers are making arrangements for their annual burgoon and picnic at Nichols Park, altho the time has not been definitely fixed. The program for the day will include games and various amusements, and an excellent time is anticipated.

Jesse Henry, of East St. Louis was in Jacksonville yesterday. Mr. Henry is connected with the stock yards in East St. Louis and makes occasional visits here.

INFANT CHILD FOUND DEAD AT WHITE HALL

Had Never Been Well and Death Was Due to Natural Causes—White Hall Chautauqua to Close Today.

White Hall, Illinois, August 26—A son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Newton, aged three months, was found dead in bed about 3:20 a. m. Saturday. The child had evidently been dead for an hour or more, the family having been awakened at the hour by an electrical storm. The child had been afflicted in its side and breast since birth, and the coroner signed a verdict of death from natural causes.

Funeral services will be held from the home in the east part of the city at 10 o'clock Sunday, and the interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

Sunday is the closing day of the first annual White Hall chautauqua, as the success has been such as greatly exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the management. It is expected the Sunday's attendance will be more than can be accommodated in the program tent, and measures are being taken to care for the promised gathering. A quarter of an inch of rain early Saturday morning settled the dust and purified the atmosphere, and the weather man has provided clear and altogether favorable conditions for Sunday, all of which means that the White Hall chautauqua will be the center of attraction that day for all this section of the country.

WITH THE SICK.

Earl and Lawrence Gruber are patients at Passavant hospital ill with typhoid fever.

G. A. Faugust who has been on the sick list for the past week was able to return to his business duties yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Hart, injured in the automobile accident on Hardin avenue, was able Saturday to return to her home on South Main street. It will be several days, however, before she is able to be about.

MATRIMONIAL

Wilton-Keplinger

Sidney George Wilton of Medora, Ill., and Miss Amelia Keplinger of Waverly were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the Centenary Parsonage at 4:30 o'clock by Rev. G. W. Flagg. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wilton of Medora and is a prominent farmer of that community. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Keplinger of Waverly and has always made that place her home. They expect to make their home on a farm near Medora.

FUNERALS

Flynn.

Funeral services for Jacob Flynn were held from the residence in Alexander Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Elder E. E. Curry. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Aulbaugh, Miss Gertie Young and Messrs. Luther Wiley and Fred B. Six. Interment was in Sulphur Springs cemetery, the bearers being James, M., William, Martin and Silas Flynn.

TWO YOUNG LADIES INJURED IN GETTING OFF STREET CARS

Accidents Occurred Near State Hospital Friday Evening—"Safety First" Rules are Cited.

Two accidents due to failure of heeding safety first rules occurred Friday evening on South Main street when Miss Mollie Rexroat and Mrs. Pearl Davenport were injured by stepping off street cars before the car had stopped. It frequently happens that both men and women step from moving cars in their hurry not realizing that the cars are in motion. The peculiar thing about the accidents was that the two young ladies were on separate cars and that one car was following the other. The young ladies are attendants at the Jacksonville State hospital and were returning from the chautauqua on the 9:45 o'clock cars. Miss Rexroat who was on the first car attempted to get off as the car was going on the switch, just north of Michigan avenue. The car had not stopped and she fell and was slightly injured. She was able to walk to the hospital where her wounds were dressed. Mrs. Davenport was on the second car and her attempt to alight resulted in a fall and injury. Assistance was called and she was taken to the hospital. A sign should adorn every street car, "Don't Get Off Until Car Stops" and all passengers should heed the warning.

We are now showing the early offerings in fall fabrics for men's suits. The materials are excellent and the range of patterns so wide that the stock is especially attractive. We urge our patrons to make early selections.—A. WEHL.

A CASE OF BEER.

This is the unusual story of a well known East State street business man. He was much surprised the other day to receive a receipted invoice for a case of beer, giving his name but his street address incorrectly. The business man called up the express office and asked the agent if a case of beer had been received for him. An affirmative reply was given and then the business man wanted to know why it had not been delivered to his proper address. He insisted that the agent should send to the house in the third ward where the beer had been delivered and transfer it to his residence in the second ward. This the agent attempted to do but sent back report that the order was too late, the bottles were all empty.

The real facts seem to be that the third ward resident sent in an order for a case of beer using the name of the business man in question but giving his own street address and prepaying the charges for the case. It probably never occurred to him that a receipted invoice would be mailed and might go to the business man. The business man in the story insists that if any other residents of Jacksonville are going to use his name in ordering beer, that the delivery is to be made to his own residence.

BERT WAY WINS HONORS

At the state livestock convention at Taylorville Bert Way of Concord, who is associated with M. O. Matthews in the farming and livestock business, was awarded the first prize in the stock judging contest on hogs. He was also awarded a diploma as a livestock judge. These are not the first livestock honors that Mr. Way has won and he now ranks well among the prominent livestock experts of this state.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKET SALE UP TO 2,600 MARK

Large Number of Towns Represented in List of Purchasers

The sale of tickets for the 1917 chautauqua last night passed the 2,600 mark. The directors have not authorized the statement, but this number would seem to make next year's chautauqua a certainty.

Last year there were 4,000 tickets guaranteed and the sum represented was just about the equivalent of 2,000 tickets at the $1.50 price. Mr. Cause, who has been very active in pushing the sales, said last night that there have been approximately 800 purchasers. It is interesting to note the increasing sales in various communities represented in the tent colony. More people from Waverly, Chapin, Franklin and Winchester have purchased tickets for 1917 than was true of the same localities last year. The same statement applies to a number of other localities. Among the towns represented in the list of purchasers are the following:

Winchester, Chapin, Markham, Concord, Arenzville, Litterberry, Prentice, Sinclair, White Hall, Woodson, Murrayville, Alexander, Pisgah, Franklin, Waverly, Joy Prairie, Orleans, Arnold, Lynnville, Merritt, Riggston.

The people of Jacksonville can readily understand what it means to have good people from all of these communities interested in the chautauqua. That interest is beneficial not only to this community, but to the several communities represented.

MILK WAGON TEAM RUNS AWAY

A team of horses hitched to a milk wagon belonging to Peter Schirz, who resides east of the city ran away Saturday morning, starting on East College Avenue. They ran several blocks and ran into a drive way and on thru tearing down fences. They were on Brook street when stopped. The wagon was damaged to some extent and the horses only slightly bruised. Milk was spilled all along the route, making a sort of milky way. Money fell from the drawer in the wagon and was eagerly picked up by small urchins on the street. Some of them proved to be honest youths and returned the money. Others took all they could find and made away with it. Mr. Schirz had reason for congratulating himself that the damage resulting was not more serious.

ROBBINS RUSSEL WEDS

MISS WORTHINGTON IN LA.

Ceremony Took Place Saturday at Darling, Pa.—Will Live in New York City.

The marriage of Mr. Robbins Russel of this city and Miss Dorothy Worthington of Oak Park was solemnized Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at Staten farm near Darling, Pa., the home of Mrs. M. T. Falconer. Only near relatives were present for the impressive ceremony. Mrs. Andrew Russel, the groom's mother, left Jacksonville Friday to be present, but Mr. Russel was unable to leave Illinois at this time. After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Russel will be at home at 19 West Ninth street, New York city.

Mrs. Russel is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lyman Worthington of Oak Park. It was while she was a student at Illinois college during the year 1913-14 that the attachment was formed which culminated in the marriage Saturday. Following her college work here she studied expression and music in Chicago and is a young lady not only of great personal charm but unusual talent.

Mr. Russel, following his graduation from Illinois college in 1914, spent two years at the University of Illinois and took his master's degree there last spring. Soon afterward he entered upon the duties of a position in the Chase National Bank in New York, one of the largest financial institutions in the east. Mr. Russel's college course was characterized by great earnestness and activity in various lines, and his student days gave promise of an unusual future. In his present position he has large opportunity and there is every reason to believe that his advancement will be steady.

NEW FAIR ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED HERE

May Choose Delegates to Congressional Convention

Not long since the Morgan county board of county commissioners appointed John W. Clary, A. D. Arnold and Frank Todd to attend a congressional convention to name a member of the state board of agriculture. Now news comes from Springfield that articles of incorporation have been issued to the Central Illinois Fair association of this city, the incorporators being William Kepler, J. W. Sperry, and F. M. Morton of this city. The connection between the two items is that county boards are authorized to name delegates to the congressional convention only in cases where no fair association exists. It is presumed, therefore, that some persons not appointed were desirous of representing the county at the convention which will be held at the same time as the state fair. In past years F. M. Morton has frequently been one of the delegates. The present member from this district is Mr. Watkins of Petersburg. He is a candidate for re-election, as is George Peak of Scott county. The articles of incorporation were also issued Saturday to C. F. Douglas, J. J. Watt and J. H. Wilburn of the Ashland Fair association.
